April 15, 2025,

To Whom It May Concern,

It is with great pleasure that I recommend Collins Katenya, an exceptional alumnus of the EldoHub Miliki Business Accelerator Program. During his participation from July to December 2024, Collins consistently demonstrated remarkable dedication, creativity, and a strong sense of purpose in applying technology to drive climate action and sustainable development.

Collins is currently pursuing a Diploma in Information Technology at Mount Kenya University and holds a Diploma in Interior Design. He has complemented his academic journey with prestigious certifications and fellowships, including the FXB Climate Advocates Program, Aspire Leaders Program at Harvard's Aspire Institute, the McKinsey Forward Program, and digital skill development through ALX. His multidisciplinary expertise enables him to integrate IT, AI, and media into impactful climate and community initiatives.

One of his most promising contributions is the Marula Wetland Project, a proposed initiative focused on environmental restoration and sustainable agriculture through data-driven strategies. His leadership in this project highlights his ability to design innovative, evidence-based solutions grounded in community engagement and policy influence.

Beyond his entrepreneurial pursuits, Collins is the Founder of KK Photography and serves as Lead Video Producer at CITAM Eldoret Church Media. He is highly skilled in digital storytelling, remote project management, and content creation—leveraging these tools to inspire youth participation in environmental advocacy.

At EldoHub, we are proud to have supported Collins on his growth journey. His integrity, resilience, and visionary leadership make him a valuable contributor to any initiative centered on climate action, youth empowerment, or digital transformation. I highly recommend him for future opportunities without reservation.

Sincerely,

Chepkemai Magdaline
